

2007 CHARITABLE PROJECTS

Youth:

Costa Rica Orphanage

Four of us travelled to Costa Rica and met our guide who greeted us with open arms. We were only able to go into the orphanage two at a time. However once they saw our donation they seemed more flexible. It was an amazing experience, we were able to sit and hold and play with the children. They were so excited to have visitors, and didn't want to leave our side. Thank you Jim Sorenson for your incredibly generous donation.

Indigenous Causes:

Kanosh Indian Project

We brought several bags of clothing and food to the Kanosh Indians in Kanosh, Utah. We also purchased a hot water heater for their community center.

Extreme Poverty:

Rural Village in Costa Rica

We travelled to a remote village in Costa Rica who suffered a lot of damage from the heavy rains. We brought an outfit and a toy for every child in the village. We also brought a very generous food package for every family in the village.

Women's Causes:

Women for Women International

This year's Goddess Event was amazing, we raised enough money to adopt two at Women to Women International for our 2007 Women's Cause. Thank you beautiful Goddesses for your open, giving hearts.

Giving Tree:

We are adopting a family of three boys this year for our Giving Tree. We would also like to bring the family a Christmas dinner and the parents a nice gift.

Helping Hands:

Project... The Wade Project

Frank Wade struggles with cerebral palsy... and although he is working two jobs he also needs help with his care at home. His wife Brenda who helped him at home is in need of a liver transplant and is no longer able to help Frank like he needs. Brenda's liver transplant will cost them $100,000 after insurance. We will raise money to help these two wonderful people with their financial hardship.
