

2013 Humanitarian Projects

Youth:

Educate Africa

Financial donations to help African children receive an education.

Elderly:

Project Cozy Toes

We will be taking the Grandparents at the YWCA to purchase warm winter boots and socks. These kind elderly seniors work in the classrooms for the YWCA daycare. They receive well under minimum wage and live off social security checks. Let's help make this winter a bit cozier for these grandparents' toesies.

Extreme Poverty:

Inviting India

I spent a month in India and was able to help two communities – one was about an hour outside of Chennai. It was a very poor village outside of Oneness University. Then I went to Chennai, along for four days and helped an area you would call the “slums” – people living on the ground or in boxes. It was a joy to bring love, light, money and food to this very needy community.

Women's Causes:

Women in Need

Our women's project this year is for a woman in the community that has been struggling with cancer and medical bills. She asked us to not publish her name.

December 2013:

- Giving Tree- for children and families struggling with financial hardship... making sure every child has a gift under the tree.
- Toys for Tots – Marine core toy drive. Bring your toys to the Transformation Station during business hours or to the Unity Church service Sunday at 10:30 am. (1111 Brickyard Rd SLC UT)
- Cozy Toes – Boots for the grandparents at the YWCA
- Heat Assistance – Helping low-income families with heating bills.
- Food Bank – Bring food items to Unity Church service Sunday at 10:30 am.